Messalina soon became notorious not only for her killings but also for her adulteries. Her lovers ranged from leading senators to lowly actors and Claudius appears either not to have known or to have turned a blind eye to her infidelities. At last, she went too far.

In Oct 48 while Claudius was sacrificing at OSTIA, Messalina married Gaius SILIUS, one of her lovers. When Claudius was told the news, he feared he had been outwitted.

It was the resolute action of NARCISSUS, the Chief Secretary, which saved the day.

Claudius was hurried to the protection of the Praetorian camp where SILIUS was brought before him and executed, Messalina too was executed, without being given a chance to appear before Claudius lest he let her off.

Apostle James was killed during a persecution arranged by King Agrippa I (called Herod in Acts 12:1-2)

42 or 44 A.D.

King Herod Agrippa ordered a persecution of Jesus' followers in Jerusalem in 42 or 44. St James was one of the first arrested. He was condemned to death for his commitment to Jesus Christ and was executed with a sword.

James was the first of the apostles to die for his faith. Jesus followers reverently buried James in Jerusalem. They honored him as a martyr.
